Best Whiskies at the Bank Exchange

Try the whiskey of 1875 at the Bank Exchange.

For Sale.

The house and lot in Milan known as the "Central Hotel building." Also some valuable land, lying near the college building. Apply to W. Y. Williamson, or the Milan Exchange.

Photographs.

All persons wishing good Photographs or Gem pictures of their own person or families will do well to call soon, as I will remain but a short time. I came here with a view of locating, but they have got the corporation tax so high that I cannot afford to locate under such high taxation. Very Respectfully,
S. H. OWEN, Photographer.

You can buy Dry Goods for less money at Frenz's than at other houses, which are selling at cost.

SMALL CHANGE.

Muddy streets.

It rains every night now.

The morning opened with March weather.

The L. & N. pay train was here last Tuesday.

Rain fell here again last Wednesday night and Thursday.

The high water at Cairo impedes travel somewhat on the Illinois Central.

There is a prospect for the building of several new brick houses here this year.

A number of new business locals appear in this issue. Read and profit by them.

The Indian doctors are still here, and give nightly concerts at their camp, on Main street.

Sleet and snow fell here last Saturday, and the weather was freezing cold afterward for a day or two.

A new shoe shop has opened on Main street. The patent washing machine man was in town this week.

This week's issue closes the ninth year of the Exchange. Our friends will find this to be a good time to subscribe. Begin with the new volume.

An umbrella, with the name of T. E. Sharp printed on the inside, has been mislaid. The finder will confer a favor by leaving it at E. N. Stone's store.

Tramps are getting decidedly too numerous here. Let a lot of them be arrested and put to work on the streets, and they will give Milan a wide berth hereafter.

There is beginning to be a great scarcity of cattle in this neighborhood, and beef is almost a luxury in the market. We are in favor of stopping shipments for a while.

A large excursion party, occupying five sleeping coaches, passed here last Tuesday, en route to New Orleans, to attend the meeting of the Mississippi Valley Horticultural Association at New Orleans this week.

Mr. Porter, of the Humboldt Argus, joined them here.

Messrs. Stewart & Danner have an advertisement in this issue, to which we call the attention of the reader.

These gentlemen are well known to our readers, and have hosts of friends all over this section. Their stock of drugs, medicines, stationery, etc., is large, fresh and pure, and Dr. Danner gives the business his close personal attention. Go and see him at the City Drug Store, Coley's old stand, and you will be well treated.

A tramp, who is passing himself for leaf and dumb, has been annoying our citizens two or three days this week. On Thursday night he got himself filled with alcohol, then got into a row with somebody, when he got a badly cut head. Pistol shots were heard on the street about midnight, and it was at first believed he had been shot. Dr. Bledsoe dressed his wound, and says it was not a gunshot wound, but was made with some blunt instrument.

The card of the American Paper Company, Nashville, will be found in this issue. This company, as we know personally, sells stationery as low as do the St. Louis dealers, and we believe they sell everything they handle at as low rates as any western dealer. Mr. R. H. W. Brooks, who is well and favorably known in this section, represents this house, and will deal squarely with all who may favor him with an order. Let us all help to build up a home enterprise by patronizing him.

"HALF A LOAF."

On the principle that "half a loaf is better than no bread," we issue only a half sheet this week. Because of the high waters, our paper had not reached us at noon to-day, and we are forced to adopt this measure to publish the local news. We believe this is the first time it has occurred in the nine years since the Exchange was established, and we hope our readers will pardon what cannot be helped.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. E. R. Williams, of McKenize, is visiting relatives here.

Prof. Hooker visited the College while here—the scene of his past labors.

Mr. Bob. Lockard and family, of Jackson, are visiting relatives here this week.

Messrs. John Shepherd and Ed. Sharp, left last Wednesday, on a business trip.

Mr. Muse, of the Courier Journal, called on us Thursday, en route to his home in Jackson.

Rev. C. F. Collins will hold service to-morrow morning and evening at Odd Fellow's Hall.

We understand Dr. Kelsey treated over one hundred patients at Atwood last Tuesday—a big day's work.

DIED.

Mrs. Jennie Hutcherson, widow of the late Capt. Tom Hutcherson, died at her residence here last Wednesday evening, after a very short illness. She was a lady of elegant refinement and education, and was loved by a large circle of friends and relatives in both Carroll and Gibson counties. She was a teacher in the College, and had the sincere love of all her classes and the respect and confidence of the patrons. She leaves three young daughters, whose grief is inconsolable. They have the sincere sympathy of our whole community.

"Our Young Men."

Mr. George W. Armistead, the talented editor of the Bolivar Bulletin, will lecture next Friday night at the Baptist church for the benefit of the College. His subject will be "Our Young Men," and we learn that he handles it in the most interesting manner, giving much valuable information in a very entertaining manner. We hope to see a full house. Admission 25 and 15 cents.

Mayor and Aldermen.

At the regular meeting on the 12th inst., the Board of Mayor and Aldermen made the following appropriations:

|                                 |          |

NOTES BY THE WAY.

Lebanon has a large number of elegant new residences.

Chattanooga is still growing very rapidly. She has the finest passenger depot in the south.

Dan Baird, editor of the News, runs the only hotel in Lebanon. He has a bonanza, and ought to get rich.

The wheat fields in Georgia look to be in splendid condition. Plowing is also progressing for the cotton crop.

The Nicholson House, in Nashville, is the best hotel in the city, we think. Many others think so too, judging by its register.

A few hours travel last Sunday carried us from June to January. When we arrived in Nashville the ground was hard frozen.

Nashville is on a big building boom. More fine houses have been built there in the last year than in any city of the south, we believe.

"The Georgia Major" is the name of a new humorous paper, just started in Atlanta. "Old Si." "Uncle Remus," and other noted individuals are contributors.

The castle hall of Lotus Lodge, K. P., at Lebanon, is one of the handsomest in the state, and the members of the lodge are among the best citizens of the state.

We had the pleasure of going to and from Chattanooga with that prince of clever men, conductor Cowardin. He is one of the pleasantest men and best conductors on any road.

We met our senator and representatives at their post of duty in the capitol last Monday. They are faithful servants of the people, and will carry out their wishes to the best of their ability.

Our old-time friend, County Court Clerk Harkreader, entertained this writer and the scribe of the Paris Post last week in Lebanon. His excellent wife has our thanks for the right royal way in which we were treated.

On last Saturday, in Macon, Ga., we saw peach trees in full bloom, many varieties of flowers blooming, and garden truck growing like it does here in April. The temperature was about like Tennessee June weather.

Among the gallant Knights we met at Lebanon were Laps. McCord, of the Pulaski Citizen, Mr. Barksdale, of the Clarksville Tobacco Leaf, and Mr. Rison, of the Paris Post. Bob White, of the Herald, received them in the orthodox way.

Atlanta and Macon, Ga., show signs of great improvement. Both cities have caught on to the building boom, and many fine houses are being built. Both, also, have the poorest so-called evening papers in the known world.

Lebanon has some of the handsomest business houses of any town in the state, as well as a host of the most hospitable people in the world. The houses on the southeast corner of the square and East Main street would be a credit to larger cities. A stock company has also been formed there to build a fine hotel—which is badly needed.

Lotus Lodge, K. P., at Lebanon, entertained the Grand Lodge in a magnificent manner, and will long have a tender spot in the memory of every Knight who was there. The banquet was a practical exemplification of the morality of the taxing district government. Not a drop of wine or spirits was in the house, and the occasion was a delightful one to all present.

The Portable Electric Lighter.

(From the Boston Post, January 1st.)

One of the most ingenious and useful contrivances in which electricity plays the prominent part, is the Portable Electric Lighter, for practical use in the office, at home, and in factories, banks, hotels, restaurants, saloons, and all places where lighters are needed. It does away with the liability of fires from the careless use of matches, or from fires from children playing with them, or from mice and rats. The apparatus occupies a space of five square inches and weighs but five pounds, and can be carried with ease from apartment to apartment. It is complete in itself, requiring no extra power, wires or connection, and is so constructed that any portion or part can be replaced at a small cost. By simply pressing upon the knob to the full extent of the spring (which connects the battery) an electric current is produced, by which the spiral of platinum is heated to incandescence and the light is instantaneous. The material lasts about two months, and can then be renewed at a small cost through any chemist. It will not be long before everybody will have a Portable Electric Lighter. The price, $5, is so low that it cannot fail to become popular at once. At a further cost of $2.50, connections and cups are adjusted to the battery, controlled by a switch, so that it can be adapted for the purpose of ringing an alarm or call bell, which can be attached to the instrument, or by the addition of wires, can be rung at any reasonable distance. When so adjusted, the circuit can be altered in an instant, by the switch, to give light or ring the bell at will. These connections can also be attached to an induction coil, by which a powerful current of electricity can be conveyed. The principal office is at 22 Water Street, Boston, where all applications for this most novel lamp should be sent.

Only 7 patterns of carpets left at Frenz's, which can be bought at cost.

If you want a nice clock, cheap, go to Frenz's.

M. L. Buchman, Bristol, Tenn., says: "Brown's Iron Bitters permanently relieved me of dyspepsia."

25 cent Dress Goods can be bought at Frenz's for 18 cents.

Call at Henry Blankinship's when old man Thirst is tormenting you, if you would be kindly and courteously treated.

Frenz will sell you clothing below cost.

Try Blankinship's oily eight year old Bourbon, only 15c a drink.
